

BANGED HIM WITH OPERA GLASSES

Woman Accused by Little Man of Hitting Him in the Eye and Also Smashing His Straw Hat.

MAGISTRATE RELEASES HER, TELLING HER TO BE GOOD.

"Be Good," She Replies, "but God Is Just and I Will Be Avenged"—Her Alleged Victim Is Sad.

A broad, six-foot woman glared at a little, narrow, four-foot man in the Municipal Court to-day.

Juliette Louise Barry was her name; William Meyer was his. Juliette looked a charge of assault and battery against the eye. Meyer, who lives at No. 20 West Sixty-seventh street, told the magistrate that Juliette had been driving and dreadful things to him.

At the beginning of the trouble dated some time. Several weeks ago, Juliette was charged by a sixth avenue grocery shoplifting. This incensed her.

After proving, it appears, that she had made no attempt to put a grand piano in her stocking or a set of parlor furniture in her polonaise, Juliette turned around and sued the firm for $10,000 damages.

She believes she might have been whiling away the idle hours these days counting money had it not been for Meyer. He came into court as the star witness for the defense and told stories about Juliette that she would never think of putting into book form.

She Smashed His Hat, He Says. Miss Barry immediately went on the warpath. She was after Meyer's scalp. She knew Meyer was a race track commissioner. She knew other things.

But this was enough. She was at the track yesterday. So was Meyer. Whether she picked the wrong horse or not was not brought out in the testimony to-day. When she stepped into the train there sat Meyer. On Meyer's head was a new straw hat, bought that very day.

The sight of the hat made Juliette emotional. She snatched it off, he says, threw it on the floor and jumped on it until she was all out of breath. When she got through, Mr. Meyer declares, there wasn't a whole straw left in the hat.

Two or three brakemen and a conductor with a red mustache calmed Juliette and disarmed Meyer from riding the rest of the way on the trucks.

On the ferry-boat, however, Juliette, according to witnesses, once again felt the fierce craving for revenge.

Field-Glasses Used as Club. "I pulled out a pair of field-glasses and hit me in the eye," testified Meyer. "Your Honor, it was terrible the way she clanked that man around the boat," added a witness.

The further fact was brought out that Meyer received an awful wallop in the stomach with the field-glasses.

"Are the glasses in court?" asked the magistrate, sternly.

Miss Barry fumbled into a pretty leather shopping bag.

"They are, Judge," she said, producing a dainty pair of opera-glasses. Meyer looked astonished, and the magistrate smiled. A policeman had to turn his back.

The court finally concluded it would be quite impossible to make out a case of assault and battery with that pair of opera-glasses.

"I'll have to let her go," said the magistrate, "breaking it as gently as possible to Meyer."

"But she'll kill me one of these days," protested the disarmed Meyer. "Please put her under heavy bonds to keep her peace, any way, won't you Judge?"

The magistrate shook his head, but at the same time he advised Miss Barry to be good.

"I'll be good," she answered, "but God is just and I will be avenged."

And leaving these words to echo through the court she went out with a withering glance at poor Meyer.

GIRL'S MASKED MEN STORY A "MAKE UP"

She Lacked Money to Pay Her Board and Told the Police She Had Been Held Up and Robbed.

Annelle Rose, twenty years old, of No. 102 Terrace avenue, Jersey City, reported to the police of that city early to-day that she had been held up by five men wearing masks at Mountain road and Franklin street and robbed of $7.

Capt. Cox, of the Central avenue station, discredited the girl's story, but she held up. Before returning to the station the girl admitted that her story was untrue. Said she to the policeman:

"I owed some money for board, and in view of the fact that I did not have it to pay I invented the hold-up story."

MISS MARY EGAN WEDS TO-DAY

Toomey, The Rev. Father James Aylward will officiate. John Huyler Howe is best man and William G. Sullivan, Morris Walsh and William Grogan.

WEST NO PLACE FOR WEAK LUNGS

So Agree Consumption Specialists Attending Medical Association's Convention at Atlantic City.

Permanent Cure Can Be Accomplished Right at Home—Pneumonia Increasing.

At the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, just held in Atlantic City, eminent physicians have devoted their lives to the study of consumption were unanimous in their opinion that in fighting the battle against this dread disease it was cruel, unsatisfactory and a mistake to send persons, weak and dying, to California, Colorado, or some other far-off place in the delusive hope of a permanent cure.

The battle, it was held, must be fought on lines which will overcome the disease right at home, where it originates.

At the same session, Dr. E. F. Wells read a paper on the subject of Pneumonia, which, he said, is remarkably on the increase, and he made the startling statement that the disease is a new menace to the world.

For more than fifty years doctors and scientists have recognized the fact that in order to combat the deadly ravages of consumption and pneumonia, the vitality must be fed and nourished, and the system given strength and kept in condition to resist and throw off the poisonous disease germs by the regular and judicious use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

As a safe and positive cure and preventive of pneumonia and consumption, and all lung and stomach troubles, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has carried the blessings of health and hope into more homes during the most half century than all other medicines combined. It purifies, enriches and stimulates the blood, rebuilds the worn and wasted tissues, tones up the heart's action, kills the deadly microbes that feed on the lungs and lining of the body, and promotes health and longevity.

It makes the old young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is absolutely pure, contains no fuel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. It is prescribed by doctors of all schools everywhere as an invigorating tonic and stimulant, and is used in the principal hospitals of the land.

Sold by all druggists and grocers or direct, $1 per bottle. Medical booklet free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.
